"I've been ADHD all my life. I'm 58 years old. It wasn't until last year that I was clinically diagnosed to be ADHD. I was also IQ tested and found to be in the 99.9% percentile. I say this because ADHD had me believing I was less than others and perhaps not as sharp as my peers. I spent my life a bit confused and struggling in areas most others have little to no trouble with. I had a temper that could lay waste to anyone unfortunate enough to provoke me and it didn't matter who you might be. I had always struggled with correctly perceiving others intentions. I was a loner and others liked it that way. Not a pretty picture.

Understanding the effects of ADHD was a great help and gave me answers I had searched for four years. My intelligence test brought me to tears. I wasn't at all less than others, quite the opposite. It soon became a mission to complete what I had started. I knew the whys of my oddness and armed with my new found appreciation for my mental abilities I started my search for the right person to bring it all together. I wanted to be calm and focused man. Slow to anger and pleasant to be around. I wanted to be whole. I wanted to be free of the past.

I looked for a doctor much like anyone would. I went online :) I contacted four that looked like they had potential. I'm not sure what struck me about Dr. Fleming, but I contacted him and the three others and set about my day. About an hour later Dr. Fleming emailed me. He was wonderful. He understood my condition, explained who he was, gave me excellent information and applied no pressure to choose him. The others were unimpressive. 150.00 an hour for as long as it took and it would take a long time for me to heal, if I ever did.

Dr. Fleming told me he could get me up and running and do so in a week. He had my full attention! I asked questions and he quickly responded. For days he was Johnny on the spot and with no signs of it being a burden to talk with me. It wasn't.

I researched the brain balancing technology he implements and become a believer. He guided me through the entire process. I made appointment to spend a week at his Tulsa office. It was the best week of my life.

He was professional from his first contact with me all the way through to his personal follow up just a day after I had completed my five days of procedures. He was easy to talk to and delighted to explain each day's results. I have never felt better. I sleep like a baby. I sleep deep and comfortable. My brain is focused and present. I'm no longer troubled with a "busy mind" my temper is gone. I feel in control of my thoughts for the first time in my life. I'm calm and relaxed. I get more work done and in a much less time. I don't need to see a psychologist for weekly talks and in the long run it was cheaper than a year of analysis. The results are spectacular.

I recommend Dr, Fleming to anyone who wants a better life. He's a very bright and interesting man with the knowledge and tools to get you where you need to be and on with your life. I consider myself blessed to have found him."
